Timeless craftsmanship comes to life in the Colonial Plantation collection. Crafted exclusively from solid mango wood, each heirloom quality piece features hand-planed surfaces, hand-turned legs and a moisture-resistant catalyzed finish. This beautiful dining chair with weathered teak finish pairs perfectly with our Colonial Plantation dining tables, and is a beautiful complement to any reclaimed wood or mixed media dining room. The heirloom quality construction enhances the durability and beauty of the chair, while the presence of natural wood knots and distressed markings bring out the distinct characteristics of this wood, making no two pieces the same.
