Rustic and modern elements fuse together in the beautiful wood furniture of the Carnegie collection. Each piece in the Carnegie collection is highlighted by the unique band-saw teak finish of the sustainably sourced mango wood, and the reclaimed iron of their authoritative bases. Simple, clean lines add a touch of contemporary modern style to the furniture in this industrial collection. This beautiful sideboard is fashioned from solid mango wood featuring a band-saw teak finish that offers durability while showcasing the natural grain of the wood. Two cupboard areas shape the body of the sideboard with modern, french door style glass doors that cover the length of the piece. Distressed black metal frames each piece of glass, providing an authentic look and feel. This sideboard is pre-assembled, and with materials of the finest quality, it will be an effortless addition to any home.
