The Saphira ceiling lamp is bold, brassy, and still has room for an elegance that can only be ascribed to its design, highlighted by its balanced shade. Made from steel, it has a distinctive double horn appearance, with a two tone finish. in glossy black and white. Eight light fixtures are adorned by this shade, connected by slender steel arms finished in brass plating, with a similar brass plated steel stem and canopy. Sophisticated design that channels the intelligence and creativity of mid-century modernism.
